Many Parts of Canada Contribute to Demonstration At Margaret Eaton School

FENCING GAY FEATURE

Fifty-two girls from many parts of Canada, dressed in smart abbreviated black and white uniforms, opened the annual demonstration of Physical Education at Margaret Eaton School last night with the singing of "O Canada." The demonstration, held in the gymnasium, was under the direction of Miss Florence A. Somers, Miss Elizabeth Wardley, Miss Dorothy Jackson, Miss Marion Hobday, Miss Mildred Wickson and Miss Dorothy Pratt.

Parents and guests of the students filled to overflowing the hall, and enthusiastically applauded their feats and skill. The well-arranged program began with a group of English country dances by the junior students and proceeded with an exhibition of gymnastics in which the seniors joined, using their apparatus. The audience held its breath while the able performers nimbly swung from the suspended rings, turned somersaults in the air, hung upside down, and with accurate timing leaped the mechanical horse, turning their bodies in the air.

Unusual was the display of fencing. The students showed the various positions used in this art, which teaches poise and infinite grace. They then held a three-point bout in which winners were declared. An exhibition game of badminton was played, illustrating the great amount of exercise this game includes. A skilled performance of tap dancing was shown followed by a round dance, a chorus entitled "Five Pleasant People," a symbolic dance called, "The Strike," and concluding with a picturesque choral.

Suggestions for any recreational evening were enacted, including a social mixer, a ball-passing game, a square dance and a musical game, as well as some more serious, four distinctly different types of folk dancing were shown, bringing out the co-ordination, grace, skill and poise which the students had learned in their months of training.

Among the many guests were: Colonel R. Y. Eaton, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Adams, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Barber of Cranbrook; Mr. and Mrs. Alec Crooks, Hamilton; Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Davidson, Welland; and Mrs. G. A. Jarvis, Mrs. J. H. Laidlaw, Ottawa; Mrs. R. B. MacLennan, Truro, N.S.; Mr. and Mrs. E. O. McConnon, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Muddiman, Winnipeg; Mrs. W. H. Stern, Edmonton; Professor and Mrs. E. M. Walker, Miss Muriel Sinclair, Miss Donald Smellie, Miss Muriel Sinclair and Dr. and Mrs. H. B. Wood of Edmonton.

GOD SAVE THE KING

The last few weeks of the school year 1938-39 at The Margaret Eaton School have been unusually busy and equally unusually festive. From the Dance Recital on April 29th until the Graduation Exercises almost a month later on May 26th, there seemed to be hardly a free moment for anyone, staff and students alike. The Dance Recital, given in Hart House Theatre, was lovely to those who know a little about the Modern Dance. How lovely it was to those who know the perfection possible in such movements or to those who know nothing about it, we are not in a position to say! Augustus Bridle, Music Critic of the Star, missed the point in a number of the dances. Miss MacDonald of the Telegram did a lot better. Everyone would agree that it was an effort worthy of The Margaret Eaton School, and Miss Hobday who trained the students, deserves a lot of credit. It is much more difficult to help students create their own dances than it is to teach them dances that have been created by someone else. It was nice to see so many of the graduates at the Recital. We thank all those who sold tickets - and those who bought them!

It was only a week or so after the Recital before the teachers were making out examination papers and bringing them in to the office to be typed. To the students it must have seemed only a matter of minutes before Anatomy, Remedials, Physiology, et cetera, et cetera, were upon them. But they took everything in their stride and by the 19th of May even the examinations were behind them.

At noon on the 20th of May, the Alumnae Luncheon was held when the seniors, staff and honorary members were guests of the Alumnae Association in the private dining-room of Eaton's Round Room. Anne Ross Thompson, the president, presided very ably and everyone voted it one of the pleasantest of these annual affairs. One of the most interesting parts of the programme was the reading of the letters from all over the country telling how the M.E.S. Graduates Day was celebrated in the different cities.

The night of the 20th, the annual Activities Association Banquet was held in the Roof Garden of the Park Plaza, one of the nicest A. A. Banquets in one of the nicest places for holding a banquet. A number of things made it unusual. Two of the girls sang a tribute to Miss Somers, a presentation of a lovely silver tray was made by the students to Miss Wardley, and Miss Hobday who was asked to respond to the toast to the staff, did so through the medium of a dance. The prophecy given in the form of a play, took us back to the time of Mary Leask and others of the class of '35 who also showed us what had actually happened to their classmates. That was the year the "Gem" was presented to the school, remember '35ers?

On the 21st, Joyce Jarvis entertained the seniors, her classmates, at tea, and on the 22nd the King and Queen visited Toronto, a wonderful day for everyone. Some of us saw them from the school, some from the street curb and some from both! The next day the seniors were the guests of Miss Somers at the Eaton Girls' Club Camp, Shadow Lake, where Bessie Pitt '25, nobly assisted by Mrs. Gardner in the kitchen, looked after everyone's comfort. In spite of the holiday on the 24th, we all worked indefatigably. For our demonstration was on the night of the 25th and it had to be up to standard even though we had already put so much effort into the Dance Recital. You will be glad to know that everything went off beautifully before a crowded house, the "house" being our own gymnasium. The next day the graduation exercises were held as usual in The Margaret Eaton Hall. Twenty-four young women received their diplomas, while four others will do so when they have completed their second month at camp and two others when they gave passed their supplementary examination in Anatomy. The day was sunny and bright, and all the girls looked lovely. A feature of this graduation was the ceremony of Student Government in which Winnifred MacLennan, head girl for 1938-39 handed over the reins of office symbolized by a bronze discus thrower, to Jean Meredith, head girl for 1939-40.

As the Executive of the Alumnae Association will be sending you a letter telling of all the celebrations on March 28th, Graduates Day, there will not be so much need for news of the graduates here. There are a few items of interest, however, that may not appear in that letter. We are therefore giving our usual, though somewhat abbreviated

News Notes:

We all sympathize deeply with Miss Hamilton in the passing of her father, Mr. T. J. Hamilton of Fergus, on May the 18th. Mr. Hamilton was one of the salt of the earth, a true gentleman, of sterling integrity, gentle, kindly, interested in others, the type of man one had only to meet to recognize his worth. We extend our sincere sympathy to Mrs. Hamilton and to all the members of the family.
